Funding for young people-focused heritage projects on the Isle of Wight

09/07/2015

On Thursday 17 September, HLF is holding a free workshop at Quay Arts, Newport, for groups based on or near the Isle of Wight who would like to develop a heritage project involving young people.

Are you a heritage organisation looking to work with more young people?

Are you a youth organisation looking to explore heritage?

Do you need the funding to make it happen?

Book you FREE place to:

- Learn about how the Young Roots programme can support young people to engage with heritage through a grant of up to £50,000
- Get top tips on what makes a good application
- Learn what support is available from organisations
- Hear from a successful project
- Arrange a one-to-one advice session to talk to HLF staff about your ideas
- Meet officers from Arts Council England, Artswork and South East Museum Development Programme who can help you develop your project ideas

Event details

Place: Quay Arts, 15 Sea Street, Newport Harbour, Isle of Wight, PO30 5BD

Date: Thursday 17 September 2015

Time: 13.45-16.45

This event is open to museums, arts organisations, youth groups, schools, colleges, libraries, archives, historical societies and community groups who would like to support young people to engage with heritage.

We are grateful to Quay Arts for hosting this event, and to the South East Museum Development Programme for organising it.

Light refreshments will be served on arrival.

Go to the Eventbrite page to book a place.