Coetiroedd Bach: Tiny Forests in Wales (round 3)

See all updates

A grant scheme intended to create Tiny Forests, as part of the Welsh Government's National Forest.

Page updated on 8 May 2024.

Important

This programme is now closed to new applications. Explore our available funding.

Is this the right scheme for you?

- Do you own or manage land in Wales, or have written permission from the landowner to apply to this scheme?
- Are you looking to create a Coetir Bach/Tiny Forest that adheres to Earthwatch's principles?
- Can you involve the community with the creation and management of your woodland site?
- Do you require a grant of up to £40,000 for one site, or up to £250,000 for multiple sites?

If you answered yes to these questions, then the Coetiroedd Bach/Tiny Forests in Wales scheme is for you.

Overview

The need to aid nature's recovery is urgent. Looking after nature and helping people to understand its importance has never been more relevant.

Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests in Wales is a grant scheme as part of the National Forest for Wales programme. We are offering grants of between £10,000 and £40,000 for sites (up to £250,000 for multiple sites) that adhere to Tiny Forest principles.

What is the National Forest for Wales?

The National Forest for Wales is led by the Welsh Government. It will create a network of woodlands and forests throughout Wales, under high quality management.

The National Forest will stretch the length and breadth of Wales. It will include both urban and rural areas – with a commitment to create both Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests and National Forest for Wales woodland sites.

It will deliver a huge range of benefits to the environment, the economy and society:

- playing an important role in protecting nature and addressing biodiversity loss
- increasing locally grown timber production – allowing the local forestry industry to thrive, creating jobs and reducing reliance on imported timber
- providing more places where people can immerse themselves in nature and spend time with their friends and families, and boosting tourism across the breadth of Wales
- supporting the health and wellbeing of communities – a working example of the Wellbeing of Future Generations Act

What are Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests?

Coetiroedd Bach is the name for Tiny Forests in Wales that are funded through this scheme.

These are new areas of dense, native woodland that follow the Dr Akira Miyawaki method of forest creation. This means woodlands that are well managed, accessible to people and give local communities the opportunity to get involved in the woodland and nature. The forest should be about 200m^2 (roughly the size of a tennis court).

A Tiny Forest has specific physical and social characteristics and scientific monitoring practices:

Physical characteristics

- Be approximately 200m^2 for the actual Tiny Forest, plus have space for heavy machinery to do preparation work, so the total space may need to be up to 500m^2 to be?accessible for large machinery. A mini digger is needed for soil preparation, plus truck deliveries of mulching material and other soil supplements.
- the proposed site is not designated as sensitive?in any way such as an SSSI, SAC, Ramsar or others
- only contains native trees and shrubbery
- is the product of field and literature research into the most suitable native species locally
- has soil that has been prepared according to the Tiny Forest planting method
- uses no chemicals (fertilisers or pesticides)
- has approximately 20-25 different tree species
- has 3 trees per square metre
- provides space for the trees to grow undisturbed for at least 10 years (no tree thinning or timber harvesting unless in exceptional circumstances such as disease or safety concerns)
- has?no overhead infrastructure – the trees could grow to 20m or more
- has?no underground infrastructure – the soil typically needs to be excavated to 1m depth, and you must respect utility buffer zones
- branches, leaves, and dead trees are left to lie where they have fallen
- The area can be any shape/orientation, but the forest must not be narrower than 4m across at any given point, without interruptions (such as a path). Long thin plots of land like hedgerow are not suitable for Tiny Forests.

- Be an?open?area?– we do not want to remove trees to plant new ones. Some scrub or low vegetation is fine, as are trees on the edge of the proposed site as these could potentially be incorporated into the design.
- be?fenced?at least for the first 3 years with access through a gate
- has a layer of mulch (such as straw) at least 15cm deep
- Has a?water access point. The trees may need watering during first 2 years of maintenance, so either a water access point must be located nearby or access for a vehicle and water bowser to the site must be possible.
- does not obstruct people's right of way – this is because the forest becomes very dense and impassable unless a specific pathway is incorporated into the design
- be easily accessible to users?such as local residents, school children, and employees

Social characteristics

- includes an outdoor classroom where feasible
- has a local partner such as a volunteer or community group, or a local authority
- planted by local residents, corporate employees and/or school children
- can be used as a place for local residents to come together and for outdoor lessons with school children
- enables engagement opportunities for local residents, corporate employees and/or school children
- is maintained (weeding/watering/litter picking) by a Tree Keeper team of 4-5 local volunteers for the first 2 years

Monitoring requirements

Using Earthwatch's methodology, you should carry out monitoring a minimum of twice a year for the first two years after planting, preferably through citizen science.

You can submit the monitoring data collected to Earthwatch at the end of each growing season. You will be set up with a login to enter the data on the Tiny Forest portal.

What the Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests in Wales grant scheme offers

This scheme is for organisations, communities and individuals with ownership or management control of small parcels of land, who want to create new small woodlands managed in collaboration with the local community using the Tiny Forests concept.

The scheme will offer:

- Grants of up to £40,000 per site. The application can cover several sites but each site may not exceed a cost of £40k, and the maximum grant available per application is £250k.
- up to 100% funding
- comprehensive training from Earthwatch Europe to plan and create a Coetir Bach / Tiny Forest (7.5 hours over 3 sessions plus ongoing coaching and support) (essential)
- membership of the Tiny Forest network led by Earthwatch Europe (essential)

- capital and revenue funding
- support from National Forest for Wales liaison officers about the National Forest for Wales programme and how to demonstrate the outcomes

Funding

The programme is funded by the Welsh Government and managed on their behalf by The National Lottery Heritage Fund. Earthwatch Europe is a key partner in delivering training and monitoring of the Tiny Forest standards.

This is mainly a fund to carry out capital works, so the majority of your costs should be capital. Guidance for what counts as revenue and capital costs is available below in the ‘What costs can you apply for?’ section.

Who can apply?

The scheme is open to anyone who owns or manages land in Wales, including not-for-profit organisations and private owners. You must have full management control of the land, or written permission from the landowner. You can make an application in partnership with other organisations, or on behalf of a landowner, but the partnership must be legally binding and the lead partner clearly identified. You will also need to have the right permissions, licences and consents in place to undertake activity.

Webinar information sessions and Open Days

The Heritage Fund Wales Engagement Team and Delivery Partners, Natural Resources Wales and Earthwatch, will be holding three online webinars/information sessions and two Open Days at Coetiroedd Bach sites.

These information sessions and Open Days are for prospective applicants to come along and ask any questions to the Heritage Fund, National Forest Liaison Officers and Earthwatch (with Tree Wardens also available to share their experiences).

Webinars:

- Tuesday 5 March,?10am-12pm. Register for this webinar via Teams.
- Monday 18?March, 12noon-2pm. Register for this webinar via Teams.
- Wednesday 10?April, 4pm-6pm. Register for this webinar via Teams.

Open Days:

- 12 March, 10.30am-12.30pm?at Coetiroedd Bach, Holyhead Town Park. Register for this open day.
- 21 March, 10.30am-12.30pm?at Coetiroedd Bach, Pencoedtre Park, Barry. Register for this open day.

What projects can you apply for?

Your project must:

1. create a Coetir Bach / Tiny Forest that fully meets the Tiny Forest criteria (see the ‘What are Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests?’ section of this guidance)
2. Deliver accessible woodlands for all to enjoy. The Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests should be accessible to the community it is within. Schools are welcome to apply and have been supported in previous rounds but need to demonstrate ways they actively involve and enable the community to access the forest through specific activities.
3. involve local residents, volunteers, local authorities or schools
4. maintain the Tiny Forest using a “tree keeper team” of volunteers for at least 2 years after the project has finished
5. meet the needs of local people as a public space and contribute to ecosystem services within the local area
6. demonstrate multiple benefits spanning environmental, social, economic and cultural wellbeing
7. consider Natural Resources Wales (NRW) area statement maps
8. check for any sensitivities of the site by referencing the Welsh government's Woodland Opportunities Map

We have a particular interest in:

- urban areas that lack green space
- areas that will enable connection between areas of natural space (such as woodland and high-quality grassland)

What costs can you apply for?

This fund is mainly to carry out capital works. A maximum of 13% of each grant can be allocated to revenue spending. In addition, up to 10% of the capital element may be used for project planning and other direct project implementation costs.

Cost Guidance document

Please refer to the Budget Guidance page to help write your funding application – this guidance includes all costings and budget information to help plan your project costs.

Application deadlines and key dates

There have been two previous rounds of Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests in Wales, with this third round being the final one.

Round three

- application deadline: 12 noon on 8 May 2024
- decision will be made: early July 2024
- Earthwatch training sessions (for successful applicants): Monday 15 July and Tuesday 16 July 2024 (times to be confirmed). Attendance is required at both training sessions. Each session will be about three hours long.
- your project completion date: 31 March 2025

Actions to take before you apply

All applicants should contact their region's National Forest for Wales Liaison Officer for advice, because if your application is successful your Coetir Bach / Tiny Forest will become part of the National Forest. You must also obtain any necessary consents or permissions from local authority, Natural Resources Wales (NRW), or other bodies – such as Cadw – prior to submission of an application.

If you do not have all of your permissions/consents in place, you need to provide evidence that you have applied for consent or permission.

Funding is only released once all consents/permissions have been granted, and grants may be withdrawn if these are not received within six months of the grant award.

Environmental impact assessments

You will not need an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) unless your Coetir Bach / Tiny Forest is to be planted on a designated site. If it is within a designated site, you will need an EIA opinion.

Land ownership

Land ownership must be evidenced. We need to see an up-to-date office copy from the Land Registry showing that you own the land (or for unregistered land, the relevant deeds). These should be attached to your application.

Leased land must be evidenced and we need to see a copy of landowner details and the lease. We also need to see the landowner's consent that you may undertake the proposed project, including ongoing monitoring and management after completion of the project. You must hold a lease as applicable to that outlined below or the landowner needs to be signed up to the terms of grant.

- Not for profit organisation: Your lease must have five years left to run after the Project Completion Date
- Private Owner: Your lease must have at least ten years left to run after the Project Completion Date

If the subject of your project is land that is owned by a third party or multiple third parties we will usually expect the owner to become a joint grantee. In some situations, rather than make the owner a joint grantee, we may ask them to sign an additional letter agreeing to comply with any terms and conditions that relate to their property.

In this instance, a legal agreement should also be put in place between each land and the grantee. There is no prescribed form of agreement but we have specific requirements which should be included in any third party owner agreements.

At a minimum, the agreements should include the following:

- confirmation as to how the land or building is held (freehold or leasehold)
- a description of the property (including plans)
- covenants on the part of the owner to maintain the property and provide public access in accordance with the terms of the grant (as applicable)
- a provision that any onward disposal should be subject to the third party agreement
- confirmation that the agreement will last from the start of the work on the third party land until five years following the Project Completion Date

The agreements will need to be completed and in place before any grant monies are released for work on any land or building owned by a third party.

Subsidy control

If your application is successful, it is important to remember our grant comes from public funds and may be subject to the Subsidy Control Act 2022.

A subsidy is where a public authority provides financial support from public money that gives an economic advantage to the recipient, where equivalent support could not have been obtained on market terms. The majority of our grants will either not be a subsidy or will be a lawful subsidy which meets the requirements of the Subsidy Control Act 2022.

It is our responsibility to assess whether a grant is a subsidy and our subsidy control assessment is an important part of your application. We ask that you familiarise yourself with the key requirements and provide us with any assistance we may reasonably require in completing a subsidy control assessment.

Working on private land

Projects can deliver works or activities on private land, as long as any public benefit clearly outweighs any potential private gain. Also, provided that subsidy control rules are not breached.

How will we assess applications?

We will assess your project on the basis of its potential to meet the Tiny Forest criteria. In delivering a Coetir Bach / Tiny Forest you are meeting the National Forest Outcomes. This criteria is in the 'What are Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests?' section of this guidance.

We have a particular interest in:

- urban areas that lack green space
- areas that will enable connection of natural space

Please also?download and fill out our measuring success checklist.?The Tiny Forest criteria can be measured by one or more of the indicators on the list.

Our investment principles

Four investment principles now guide all our grant decision making under our 10-year strategy, Heritage 2033:

- saving heritage
- protecting the environment
- inclusion, access and participation
- organisational sustainability

For the Coetiroedd Bach?/ Tiny Forests programme – by meeting Tiny Forest criteria, you are naturally meeting one or more of our Investment Principles.

We have provided specific guidance in the Coetiroedd Bach?/ Tiny Forests Application Help Notes about how to address the Tiny Forest Criteria under the Investment Principles section of our application form.

The investment principles and our strategic initiatives will help us achieve our ambitions for heritage to be valued, cared for and sustained for everyone’s future.

Making a complaint

We understand that you may be disappointed with a decision.

There is no right to appeal for Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests in Wales. We can only review our decision if you can make a formal complaint about how we have dealt with your application. We have a two stage complaint process for this fund.

We will only be able to consider and investigate the complaint if you can demonstrate that:

- we did not follow the published procedures for assessing your application
- we have misunderstood a significant part of your application
- we did not take notice of relevant information

A formal complaint must be made in writing within 10 working days of receiving your application decision. You must send your complaint to: enquire@heritagefund.org.uk

We aim to acknowledge your complaint within three working days.

Your complaint will initially be reviewed by one of our Nation & Area Directors, who is independent of recommendation and decision panels for this fund.

We aim to communicate a decision within 15 working days from when you submitted your complaint.

For assistance, contact our Customer Services Team on 020 7591 6044 or email enquire@heritagefund.org.uk.

Changes to this guidance

We will regularly review this guidance and respond to user feedback. We reserve the right to make changes as required. We will communicate any changes as quickly as possible via this webpage.

21 February 2024: Application dates have been updated, and new budget guidance has been added as a separate page. New help notes have been added as our application forms have changed. The requirements for the physical characteristics have been consolidated into the 'What are Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests?' section.

8 May 2024: The deadline for applications has passed, so this programme guidance has been archived.

Important

There is not a dedicated Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales application form. You should therefore follow the below instructions carefully to guide you in answering the questions in our standard £10,000 to £250,000 grant application form on the portal. Please use this alongside the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales Programme Application Guidance.

Use this page to:

- see what questions appear in the application
- get guidance on how best to answer the application questions
- get guidance on how to fit the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales Programme criteria into our standard application form

Each question has a word limit; however, you don't need to reach this. Only include the information we ask for that is relevant to your project.

First steps

1. visit our application portal and register an account (or login if you have applied before)
2. from the pull-down menu, please choose £10,000 to £250,000
3. submit your application attaching all required additional documents, including Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales programme-specific supporting documents

About your vision

Describe what your organisation would like to achieve through your project.

We will use your answer to tell people about your project, including our decision makers.

We publish details of applications and grant awards on our website and in public databases. This is in line with our commitment to transparency and open data principles. We will use the information you have provided when answering this question to describe your project.

Tell us what you hope to achieve and what you hope the legacy of your project will be.

For your Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales application, please also consider:

- why you want to create a Tiny Forest?
- how you think your idea will contribute to the development of the network of?Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests and the National Forest
- What you will be spending the funding on (in general). There is additional space for a full budget later on in the application form. Remember that a maximum of 13% of this grant can be used for revenue purposes.
- what you believe to be the barriers to participation in your particular community
- how individuals and communities will be supported to become involved

- how you will make sure any plans for the future are owned and delivered for the community, by the community and that volunteer “Keepers” can be recruited
- how you will include the Welsh language and/or community languages within your project

As part of the National Forest programme, there are three additional themes. Applicants should describe how the project will contribute to at least one of these themes:

- climate change mitigation and adaptation
- supporting tourism and the economy
- supporting or delivering skills and training

[Text field – 150 words]

About your heritage focus

Tell us about the heritage you will focus on as part of this project.

Provide a description of the natural heritage as it is today. You should include information such as:

- location
- current condition of the land
- any important or protected species or features, archaeological designations such as Scheduled and Unscheduled Ancient Monuments (SAMs and USAMs)
- size of the site
- current uses
- community involvement and how they will benefit

You should consider Natural Resources Wales (NRW) area statement maps, UK Forestry Standard guidance and the Woodland Opportunity Map 2021 for guidance on the likely sensitivities on a proposed site for new planting.

Do not use this section to tell us about your project, or about what will happen during your project. We will ask you about this later in the application.

[Text field – 500 words]

Is this heritage at risk?

You should answer yes to this question and provide the information below.

Explain why the heritage is under threat, how it is currently managed and by who, and what actions have been taken (if any) to minimise the risk.

Please consider: is nature (habitats and species) on the site and/or in your local area at risk and how this project will help.

You will?not?need an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) unless your?Coetir Bach/ Tiny Forest is to be planted on a designated site. If it is within a designated site, you will need an EIA opinion.

[Text field – 500 words]

About your project

What is the title of your project?

Give us a title or name we can refer to your project by.

Please start your project title/name with #COED3. For example, #COED3 Beddgelert or #COED3 Maes G.

This helps us to correctly identify your application, and failure to do this could mean your application misses the deadline.

This will be seen by our decision makers, and if your application is successful, will be used in any public posts made about your project and will be published on our website. Make sure you choose a title that you are happy for a wide range of people to see.

We encourage you to keep your title short and descriptive.

[Text input – 255 characters]

When will your project happen?

Give us a timeframe for your project.

You should receive a decision on your Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales application in July 2024.

For this round of the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales Programme, your project must be completed by 31 March 2025.

Where is your project taking place?

If your project is taking place at more than one site, tell us the address where most of your project will take place.

- the same place as my organisation address [Tick box]
- somewhere else [Tick box]

If somewhere else:

Tell us your project’s address.

[Enter postcode > select an address > edit selected address details]

We understand that you might not have a postcode. Tell us the closest postcode to your project’s location.

Do you want to add a grid reference?

Add a grid reference if your project is taking place across a large area, at more than one site or in a place which is difficult to find using a postcode. For example, a monument in a remote location or a certain area within a larger landscape.

Grid references are used to find an exact location on a map. They can look different depending on which part of the United Kingdom they refer to. For example:

- in England, Wales and Scotland, grid references usually look like this: SJ33889035
- in Northern Ireland, grid references usually look like this: C94704480

For a more accurate result, you should use grid references with 8 or 10 numbers. You can find grid references for the sites or areas involved in your project by using a tool like the OS Grid Reference Finder.

- No, we do not want to add a grid reference [Tick box]
- Yes, we want to add a grid reference [Tick box]

If yes: Add a grid reference [Text field – 20 characters]

If you would like to add another grid reference, you will be able to add more on the next page.

Further information:

Provide more information about the grid reference. For example, the name of the site or a description of the area it covers.

[Text field – 50 words]

Have you received any advice from us about this project?

If you have spoken to anyone from The National Lottery Heritage Fund about your project, tell us about the advice you received and how you have used that advice to develop your project. You will have an opportunity in the next question to tell us about any advice you have received from anyone outside of the Heritage Fund.

[Text field – 500 words]

Have you received any advice from anyone else about this project?

You should answer yes to this question. Please include under this question advice you have received from NRW, Llais y Goedwig, Cadw, County Council Countryside Service, your local Archaeological Trust, or other relevant community organisations in your locality. In particular, please mention any support you have received from National Forest for Wales liaison officers about the National Forest for Wales programme and how to demonstrate the outcomes. Please name the individuals you have spoken to if possible.

Also tell us if you have received any other specialist advice about your project.

This could include:

- any consultation you have done with your local community and those who will be involved in your project
- any project proposal advice, such as from an architect or conservator

- any pre-application advice on planning and/or listed building consent matters, such as from your local authority or an archaeologist
- advice about how to address wellbeing for your project participants, such as from a charity or local group who can provide support which is relevant to their lived experience

[Text field – 500 words]

Tell us what you will do during your project.

Provide an overview of what you will do during your project.

For example, describe any:

- activities that you will be doing
- events that you will be hosting
- items or resources that you will be creating
- heritage items or buildings you will be restoring
- landscapes you will be improving

For capital works, please detail the work and costs involved remembering that a maximum of 13% of this grant is revenue funding. In addition, up to 10% of the capital element may be used for project planning and other direct project implementation costs. Please refer to the Budget Guidance for more information on capital costs.

This helps us to understand what your project is all about.

Your project plan should provide more detailed information about each element of your project.

[Text field – 500 words]

Will capital works be part of your project?

You should answer yes to this question.

Capital works are defined as works that create or improve an asset. These can include physical works to landscapes, nature and buildings, repair, conservation, new build, digitisation, or work to stabilise the condition of objects.

Examples of capital work:

- tree planting
- building a shelter building or outside classroom
- installing interpretation panels

The Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales Programme is for landowners and/or those with full management control of land, so it is important that you tell us who owns the heritage.

If your organisation owns the heritage, tell us:

- if your organisation has the freehold of the building or land, or own the heritage items outright
- if your organisation has the lease of the building or land and how many years are left to run on the lease

- If your organisation has, or is planning to take out, a mortgage or other loans secured on the building or land, or heritage item. If so, give us details of the lender and the amount of the mortgage or loan. If you have one, upload an ownership document.

If a partner organisation owns the heritage, tell us:

- the name of the partner organisation
- if the project partner has the freehold of the building or land, or own outright the heritage items
- if the project partner has the lease of the building or land and how many years are left to run on the lease
- if the project partner has, or is planning to take out, a mortgage or other loans secured on the building or land, or heritage item
- if so, give us details of the lender and the amount of the mortgage or loan

[Text field – 500 words]

Land ownership must be evidenced as part of the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales Programme. We need to see an up-to-date office copy from the Land Registry showing that you own the land (or for unregistered land, the relevant deeds).

Leased land must be evidenced and we need to see a copy of the lease, alongside the land owners consent that you may undertake the proposed project.

You must hold a lease for as long as is applicable to the options listed below, or the landowner needs to be signed up to the Terms of Grant:

- Not for profit organisation: your lease must have five years left to run after the Project Completion Date
- Private Owner: your lease must have at least ten years left to run after the Project Completion Date

Upload ownership document.

[Choose file]

Do you need any permission to carry out the capital works?

It is expected that all applicants will get any necessary consents or permissions from local authority, Natural Resources Wales (NRW), or other bodies – such as Cadw – prior to submission of an application.

If you do not have all of your permissions/consents in place, you need to provide evidence that you have applied for consent or permission.

Examples of what might need permission:

- agreement from the owner of a heritage asset
- access rights from a landowner
- listed buildings consent
- planning permission from the council
- consent to record audio or take photographs of individuals

Has a condition survey taken place in the last five years?

Please let us know of any ecological or archaeological surveys that have been completed on the land that are not covered by your Environmental Impact Assessment.

[Text field – 500 words]

Are there any legal conditions, restrictions or covenants associated with the heritage which may affect your project?

Tell us if the register of title or other ownership documents contain any restrictions or limitation on its use or ownership, or if it requires any consents for any dealings. If so, you will need to give us the full details and evidence that these are satisfied.

This could include:

- a Restrictive Covenant limiting the type of use for the land or property
- a restriction giving another party a right to be notified of any dealing or state conditions that would need to be resolved before the property is sold

[Text field – 500 words]

Is this heritage on the at Risk Register?

Please answer no to this question.

Will you be creating any digital works as part of your project?

Please answer no to this question.

Will you be acquiring any buildings, land or heritage items as part of your project?

Please answer no to this question. Acquisition of land is not permitted under this scheme.

Our funding is subject to the Subsidy Control Act 2022. Tell us whether you consider the funding applied for to be a Subsidy within the Act and any advice you may have taken.

If your application is successful, it is important to remember our grant comes from public funds and may be subject to the Subsidy Control Act 2022. Find out more about subsidy control in the Actions to take before you apply section of the programme guidance.

[Text field – 500 words]

How will you maintain the benefits of your project and meet any related costs?

Tell us how you will manage the benefits of your project after the funding ends.

All?Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales projects funded through the programme will be given National Forest Status on successful completion of the project. Read more about the National Forest for Wales.

You will need to tell us how you will maintain community interest to ensure the site is maintained and how you will retain the Tiny Forest using a tree keeper team of volunteers for at least two years after the project has finished.?

About the need for your project

Why does your project need to happen?

This fund is competitive and you will need to explain your motivations for making this application.

What is it about the location that makes this the right thing to do now?

Consider telling us:

- What the land is currently used for and what condition it is in
- Are there particular development pressures on the land?
- Is there a one-off opportunity to re-connect isolated woodlands?
- Has the community been eager to improve or create a woodland in their area?
- How a?Coetir Bach/ Tiny Forest will change your local area
- About the people/community you will be working with, how will they be involved and the difference it will make to them
- How the?Coetir Bach/ Tiny Forest will contribute to the National Forest for Wales

[Text field – 500 words]

Is there a specific community your project is dedicated to serving? Select any that apply.

Please select from the list below to reflect who your project will support. Choose any and all that apply, or choose ‘none of the above’ if this does not apply to your project.

You can tell us more about the specific community you are working with under the Investment Principles question below about inclusion, access and participation.

If you are working with vulnerable people as part of your project, you will need to have safe-guarding policies and practices in place. You should also ensure that wellbeing for project staff, participants and visitors is considered throughout your project.

You should make reasonable adjustments to the way you deliver your project or services so that everyone can participate.

- Communities experiencing ethnic or racial inequity, discrimination or inequality [Tick box]
- Faith communities [Tick box]
- People who have migrated and/or have experience of the immigration system [Tick box]
- d/Deaf, disabled, blind, partially sighted and/or neurodivergent people [Tick box]
- Older people (65 and over) [Tick box]
- Younger people (under 25) [Tick box]
- Women and girls [Tick box]
- LGBTQ+ people [Tick box]
- People who are educationally or economically disadvantaged [Tick box]
- None of the above [Tick box]

We use the Diversity, Equality and Inclusion Data Standard to help us understand who our funding is reaching. If you think 75% or more of the people who could potentially be supported or benefit from your project come from one or more of these specific communities, tell us who they are.

Who else have you approached about funding your project?

Tell us about any other funding:

- you have secured to help towards the cost of your project
- you are planning to apply for to support this project
- you will raise through fundraising or crowdsourcing

Tell us if you have raised any non-cash contributions to help you deliver your project.

While we can fund the total cost of a project, you should explain why you are not able to raise any other funding from either your own resources or other sources.

Our investment principles

Our four investment principles will guide all our grant decision making under our 10-year strategy, Heritage 2033.

Our investment principles are:

- saving heritage
- protecting the environment

- inclusion, access and participation
- organisational sustainability

For the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales programme – by meeting the Tiny Forest criteria, you are naturally meeting one or more of our Investment Principles.

To complete this section of the application form, please refer to the ‘How we will assess applications?’ and ‘What are Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests?’ sections of the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests Application Guidance.

In the application form under this section, you will be asked to fill out information under our four Investment Principles. For your Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales project, please follow the instructions below to complete this section:

- add N/A under the ‘How your project will save heritage’ Investment Principle

- Under the ‘How your project will protect the environment’ Investment Principle – please refer to the physical characteristics of the Tiny Forest criteria and add the following declaration that you will meet these characteristics: “The Tiny Forest will be established and maintained as specified in the Earthwatch guidance, under the supervision of a Tree Keeper team who will complete the necessary Earthwatch training.”

- Under the ‘Explain how your project will increase inclusion, access and participation Investment Principle’ – please tell us how your project meets the social characteristics of the Tiny Forest criteria.
- add N/A under the ‘How your project will improve your organisational sustainability’ Investment Principle

Delivering your project

How is your organisation best placed to deliver this project?

Tell us why specifically your organisation should run this project.

This may include:

- any experience your organisation has in running similar projects
- staff and/or Board members and Trustees’ knowledge and skills
- your organisation’s capacity to deliver the project at the same time as your usual work
- your connections with other relevant projects or organisations

[Text field – 500 words]

How will you manage running your project?

Tell us how your project will be managed day to day and about the people involved.

This should include telling us:

- who is responsible for delivering the project
- how you will work with Earthwatch, NRW and Welsh Government
- how you will ensure the project links with the National Forest for Wales
- who will make decisions, the experience of the people involved and their roles in the project
- about staff posts, apprentices, traineeships, or any other paid opportunities, that your project will create
- about any volunteering opportunities your project will create. Volunteers are people who give up their time for free to help deliver your project
- if you are moving an existing staff member into a post created by this project or are extending the hours of an existing staff member to work on the project, tell us how they are qualified for the role

Remember, you must openly advertise all new staff posts, unless you are moving an existing staff member into a post created by this project or are extending the hours of an existing staff member to work on the project.

[Text field – 500 words]

Will your project be delivered by a partnership?

If yes, tell us who your partners are, the nature of your partnerships and how you will work together.

If you are working with any other organisations to carry out your project, we would like to see your partnership agreement. If you have one, you will be able to upload it here.

This document should outline all partner's roles and responsibilities and should be signed by all parties. This agreement should reflect the needs of your project and you may need to seek independent advice.

You do not need to provide a partnership agreement unless another organisation is delivering a significant part of your project.

[Text field – 500 words]

How will you evaluate your project?

You must evaluate your project and provide a written evaluation report once you finish your project.

You will need to create an evaluation plan at the start of your project. This will be an outline of how you are going to collect data to measure, analyse and understand what you are doing and ultimately to provide evidence about what your project has achieved.

Tell us who will carry out your evaluation. This could be staff within your organisation or an individual or organisation who you will need to employ. You should provide a brief for this work as a supporting document.

We would expect to see costs for your evaluation included in your project costs.

[Text field – 500 words]

Will any of your project take place in Wales?

Your entire project should take place within Wales to be eligible for the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales programme. You should therefore answer yes to this question.

You must include the Welsh language in all aspects of your work.

Please tell us how you will use the Welsh language in your project, and make sure that this information is included in your project budget and plan. Please include budget for translation costs under the 'Other' costs category in the project costs section.

[Text field – 500 words]

Tell us about any key challenges or potential risks to your project that you have identified.

We know that all projects face challenges and risks. Tell us about the challenges or risks you have identified, which could have an impact on your project.

Your risk register should provide more detailed information about these challenges or risks and how you will manage these.

We would expect to see contingency within your project costs to help manage these identified challenges or risks.

[Text field – 500 words]

Project costs

Tell us how much it will cost to deliver your project.

You should include all costs relating to your project.

Please refer to the Budget Guidance for more information on project costs. Remember to include costs for Welsh translation and acknowledgement and/or interpretation.

You will need to add a new cost for each separate project cost.

For example, if you are recruiting three new staff members to manage your project, you will need to add three different new staff costs.

Each cost will need to have its own description and amount.

If you are claiming VAT on any of your project costs, make sure it cannot be reclaimed through other sources first. We cannot cover the costs of VAT that you can reclaim.

If your VAT status changes during your project we will reduce our contribution to the costs where you have been able to claim back the VAT.

Are you getting any cash contributions to support your project?

Cash contributions are other funds you expect to receive towards the cost of your project. This includes any cash contribution from your own organisation.

If yes: Upload evidence. This could be a letter confirming the offer or a copy of bank statements showing the funds in your account.

Are you getting any non-cash contributions to support your project?

Non-cash contributions are things that you need for your project that you do not have to pay for.

For example, the use of a room in a local business or materials being donated by a local company.

Provide an estimate of how much this would have cost if your project had to pay for it.

Supporting documents

Please refer to the Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales supporting documents page for the additional document that is required in addition to our standard supporting documents outlined below. This must be submitted as an attachment to your application:

- measuring success checklist – this will help us check how your project meets the Tiny Forest criteria

Please make sure you upload the following documents with your application:

- Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) evidence (if applicable)
- ownership documents – these documents are mandatory
- condition survey (if applicable)

These can be uploaded under the ‘Evidence of Support’ section at the end of the application form.

As part of our standard application process, you will need to provide the relevant supporting documents, outlined below.

You must provide the following mandatory documents:

- a governing document
- accounts information
- a project plan and risk register

Governing document (for example, constitution)

You must provide a copy of your organisation’s governing document.

You must have at least two people on your board or management committee who are not related by blood or marriage, or living at the same address.

Your governing document should include the following:

- the legal name and aims of your organisation
- a statement that prevents your organisation from distributing income or property to its members during its lifetime
- a statement which confirms that, if your organisation is wound up or dissolves, the organisation's assets will be distributed to another charitable or not-for-profit organisation and not to the organisation's members
- the date when it was adopted and the signature of your chairperson or other authorised person

We are unable to fund your organisation if your constitution does not include the above. The?Charity Commission? provides guidance on creating a governing document.

We do not need to see your governing document if you are:

- a public organisation, for example, a local authority or university
- a private owner of heritage
- a charity registered with the Charity Commissions for England, Wales or Northern Ireland, or the Scottish Charity Regulator

Accounts

Upload your organisation's accounts.

You must provide your most recently audited or accountant verified accounts.

Accounts need to be:

- in the legal name of your organisation
- dated
- signed with a handwritten signature. This does not include digital signatures
- Include the title of the person who is signing them. This person must be a director, trustee, accountant, or other senior figure in your organisation.

If your organisation's accounts are older than 18 months, you must also provide three months of your most recent bank statements. This should be the three months before the date you submit your application.

If your organisation was set up less than 14 months ago and does not have a set of audited accounts, you must provide your last three bank statements or a letter from your bank confirming that your organisation has opened a bank account.

We do not need to see your accounts if you are a public organisation, for example a local authority or university.

Upload your accounts [Choose file]

Project plan and risk register

Upload your project plan and risk register.

All projects must submit a project plan and risk register. We recommend you use the template linked on this part of the application form. Please note the template has two sheets – one for the project plan and one for the risk register.

A link will be provided in the application form under this section.

Upload your project plan and risk register [Choose files]

Job descriptions

If applicable, upload job descriptions for any new staff or apprentices.

If you plan to recruit new staff or apprentices to help you deliver your project, you need to provide a job description for each new post. If you are moving a current member of staff into a project role, or extending their hours to support the project, you still need to provide a job description.

Each job description should include the proposed salary and working hours.

Upload any job descriptions [Choose file]

Briefs

If applicable, upload briefs for any commissioned work.

Briefs describe any work you plan to commission during your project.

If you are commissioning work, for example from an artist or architect, then you should provide a brief. The brief should describe the works, how long they will take, and how much they will cost.

You can find a template brief on our website.

Upload any briefs for work [Choose file]

Full cost recovery

If applicable, upload calculations for full cost recovery.

If you have included full cost recovery as a cost heading in your project costs, you must provide a document that shows how you have calculated this.

Costs should be proportionate to the time or resources used for your project. We can also cover a proportion of the cost of an existing member of staff, as long as they are not working exclusively on the funded project in a new post.

Upload your full cost recovery calculation [Choose file]

Images

If applicable, upload project images.

Provide up to six images that help illustrate your project.

This could include:

- an image of a map of the area showing the locations involved in your project, if it is taking place across more than one place or across a large area.

Please make sure you have all the permissions required to share these with us, as we may use these to tell people about your project, including our decision makers. We might also use any images you send us to promote your project publicly.

Upload any images [Choose file]

Evidence of support

Please use this section to upload any additional Coetiroedd Bach/ Tiny Forests in Wales-specific supporting documents. You can upload up to six additional documents.

Upload any evidence of support [Choose file]

Follow the steps on the portal to submit your application.

What happens next

Once you have submitted your application:

1. We will send you an email soon with a project reference number.
2. We will check your application and the information provided, to make sure we have everything we need to assess your application. This will include checking you have provided all the appropriate supporting documents.
3. We may contact you to request more information or documents if needed.
4. We will check your application and once we have everything we need to assess your application, we will let you know our decision in July 2024.

Guidance updates

We will regularly review this guidance and respond to user feedback. We reserve the right to make changes as required. We will communicate any changes as quickly as possible via this webpage.

- 19 March 2024: added information about governing documents in the Supporting documents section, and clarified how you can tell us about specific community groups you will involve in your project.
- 28 March 2024: we added a new question ‘Do you want to add a grid reference?’ for projects which are taking place across a large area, at more than one site or in a place which is difficult to find using a postcode.

Use this guidance to help you fill out the project costs section of your application. Please read?the full Coetiroedd Bach: Tiny Forests Application guidance before applying.

All of the points below will be expanded upon in sufficient detail in the Coetiroedd Bach (Tiny Forests) training sessions, which will take place after the funding decisions have been made.

Tiny Forest membership fee

You must include a budget line for Earthwatch membership and training. There are two options for the Tiny Forest membership fee. This fee is per Coetiroedd Bach site and you will need to factor this into your budget for each Coetir Bach even if applying for multiple sites within the same application. Please note this is a one-off payment (and not an annual membership fee).

£750 per Coetir Bach (preferred option):

- Become part of the Tiny Forest Tree Keeper network. Interested volunteers will gain access to webinars, events, newsletters, support and other opportunities to maximise engagement with their forest.
- Involvement in a national research programme on the environmental and social benefits of urban forests as a nature-based solution.
- Be registered as part of the Tiny Forest network with a dedicated profile page for your forest
- Receive a login to the portal for access to all our Tiny Forest resources and a forum space to share knowledge and questions across the Tiny Forest network
- Gain access to all surveys (for example biodiversity and carbon capture surveys) to support monitoring of your forest.

£250 per Coetir Bach:

- Involvement in a national research programme on the environmental and social benefits of urban forests as a nature-based solution.
- Be registered as part of the Tiny Forest network with a dedicated profile page for your forest
- Receive a login to the portal for access to all our Tiny Forest resources and a forum space to share knowledge and questions across the Tiny Forest network
- Gain access to all surveys (for example biodiversity and carbon capture surveys) to support monitoring of your forest.

Capital and revenue – eligible costs

It is important that you identify which of your project costs are capital and revenue. Applications can include any of the following:

Capital costs

Capital spending is money that is spent on investment and things that will create growth in the future.

Examples of acceptable capital costs are provided below. Please note that this is not a definitive list and all items of expenditure will be considered on a case-by-case basis:

- purchase of 600 native trees (UK sourced and grown), typically £1,500 to £2,500 depending on species
- purchase and installation of interpretation boards, approximately £200 to £300 (Tiny Forest branding and designs will be provided by the Welsh Government)
- Purchase of monitoring kit for four research areas: Thermal Comfort, Carbon Storage, Biodiversity, Flood Mitigation; approximately £500. Kit list could contain: leaflets, kit bag (70L), wooden canes, tape measure, ball of string, tree species list, tree ID guide, scissors, callipers, metal ruler, infiltrometer (piping), stopwatches, mallet, measuring jugs, wooden planks, water bottles, pocket penetrometers, trowels, weather station, tripod and adapter foot, biodiversity ID guides, field sheets. Earthwatch will provide advice on this.
- Consider any surveys that might need to be done for the area: utilities, possibly Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), contamination survey, etc. (Details in ‘Surveys’ section below)
- Preparation of site, such as groundworks, fencing, clearing litter and vegetation. Contractor fees for ground preparation are typically in the region of £8,000 to £13,000 depending on contractor, site conditions and geographic area. (Details in ‘Ground preparation’ section below)
- constructing accessible pathways and gates with a commitment to keep them open to the public and maintain them for at least 20 years, if not indefinitely
- creating nature/educational trails
- creating spaces for recreation, play and education (such as an outdoor classroom)
- benches/seating
- Staff time for project delivery. This means costs that help you to create the Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests; for example: project planning, procurement materials, financial management of the project, compiling and analysing management information of project delivery, which is no more than 10% of the total capital cost. (Details in ‘Staff time’ section below)
- Maintenance of the Tiny Forest until the canopy closes, usually around three years. (Details in ‘Ongoing maintenance’ section below)
- Project delivery. This means costs that help you to create the Coetiroedd Bach / Tiny Forests; for example: project planning, procurement materials, financial management of the project, compiling and analysing management information of project delivery, which is no more than 10% of the total capital cost.
- Welsh language provision, such as costs of translation

Revenue costs

Revenue funding can help with the overall cost of running the project. This includes costs that involve people in the project delivery.

Revenue funding may be used to:

- contribute to additional core/operating costs of running the project
- events to promote the woodland scheme to the wider community, and to celebrate community achievements

- additional hours for an existing volunteer co-ordinator to recruit, train and support volunteers to participate in delivering the woodland
- volunteering good practice and expenses (in line with Wales Council for Voluntary Action guidance)
- project promotion activity
- any reasonable expenditure that will enable the project to succeed

Ineligible costs

The following items are examples of costs which are not eligible. This is not a definitive list and all items of expenditure will be considered on a case-by-case basis:

- purchase of land
- cost of leasing land
- purchase of buildings
- re-stocking of trees on a site that has been felled
- work you are legally responsible for undertaking
- any physical work on site carried out before the authorised start of work date
- purchase of vehicles
- own labour and equipment costs
- medium/large scale machinery and equipment
- general office equipment and furniture
- maintenance costs
- working capital
- reclaimable VAT
- costs connected with a leasing contract, such as the lessors margin, interest financing cost, overheads and insurance charges
- costs of arranging overdraft facilities, loans or other financial support instruments – including any associated fees or other charges
- overheads allocated or apportioned at rates materially in excess of those used for any similar work carried out by the applicant
- notional expenditure
- payments for activity of a political nature
- depreciation, amortisation and impairment of assets purchased with the help of the grant

Costs which do not directly relate to the delivery of your project are also not eligible, including:

- provisions
- contingent liabilities
- profit made by the applicant
- dividends
- interest charges
- service charges arising on finance leases, hire purchase and credit arrangements
- costs resulting from the deferral of payments to creditors
- costs involved in winding up a company
- payments for unfair dismissal

- payments into private pension schemes
- payments for unfunded pensions
- compensation for loss of office
- bad debts arising from loans to employees, proprietors, partners, directors, guarantors, shareholders or a person connected with any of these
- payments for gifts or donations
- entertainments, for example staff parties
- statutory fines and penalties
- criminal fines and damages
- legal expenses in respect of litigation

Surveys

Consider any surveys that might need to be done for the area: utilities, possibly EIA, contamination survey, etc. Additionally, the Tiny Forest methodology includes a compulsory soil condition, compaction and composition survey. The testing kit for this (soil corer, penetrometer, nutrient test kit, etc) is approximately £400. If you are applying for multiple Coetiroedd Bach you only need to buy one soil testing kit.

Ground preparation

Landscaper fees for ground preparation are typically in the region of £8,000 to £13,000 depending on contractor, site conditions and geographic area. Works include:

- CAT scan of planting area and dig 3x test pits
- Prepare site in line with Miyawaki methodology:
    - Mark out site. Remove vegetation layer, store on site and relocate to bottom of excavated area
    - Remove topsoil layer, store on site
    - Excavate Coetir Bach area to required depth
    - Backfill trench with half the excavated soil
    - Supply and incorporate half of the soil supplements
    - Backfill trench with remaining excavated soil and incorporate remainder of soil supplements.
    - Replace topsoil as final layer
- Put temporary barrier around the site until the fencing is installed
- Supply matured woodchip mulch to a 50-100mm depth for volunteers to lay
- Supply and install fencing and gate
- Supply and install 6 concrete slabs (biodiversity tiles)
- Supply and install of woodchip in seating area/paths to 100mm depth
- Supply and install benches – typically 5 forest school style benches if a classroom area is included
- Supply and install 2 timber posts for interpretation panel. Install interpretation panel
- Making good to site and surrounding area affected by works

Staff time

Project delivery. This means costs that help you to create the Coetiroedd Bach; for example: project planning, procurement materials, financial management of the project, compiling, and analysing management information of project delivery, which is no more than 10% of the total capital cost. Specific considerations could include:

- site assessment, soil testing and analysis estimate 2 days plus travel
- planting day, typically 2 staff per 2 days for preparation and delivery
- Post planting community activities. You can plan what activities you want to run, for example citizen science.
- citizen science activities
- project management time for stakeholder liaison, community consultation, event management, event promotion, landscaper arrangements, etc.
- time for forest design, tree species list

Ongoing maintenance

You should be planning to engage your local community in the maintenance of the Coetir Bach. Maintenance activities until the tree canopy closes (approximately three years) can include:

- weeding
- watering
- fixing fence, gate or possibly restocking if the site is damaged
